

PITPAT'S JOURNEY

Read this poem about the water cycle and answer the following questions:

When I was young
I used to think that water came from the kitchen sink

Now I know where it stays,
It waits in the sky,
in the clouds above
our world so high.

And when it falls as raindrops,
it flows along,
and sings a watery song,

Each raindrop joins some more
And rushes to the ocean shore,
Or to a lake or a stream,
from which it rises, just like steam.

-Helen H. Moore

Answer the following questions in complete sentence.

1. What is this poem about?

2. Who is the poetess of this poem?

3. Which is bigger, a lake or an ocean?

4. Where did the child think that the water came from?

5. In which form does water rises up?

6. Mention any two verbs (action words) that you find in the poem

(a) _____

(b) _____

7. Mention any two common noun (names of things that are common) that you find in the poem

(a) _____

(b) _____

8. Search the synonyms (same meaning) of 'REMAIN' from the poem
