

SMILES N SKILLS

SCIENCE

DIGESTIVE SYSTEM

Fill in the blanks

1. Saliva is released from three pairs of bag-like structures called _____.
2. A child has _____ teeth that are mix of _____ and _____ teeth.
3. An adult has full set of _____ permanent teeth.
4. _____ is the process of breakdown of food into smaller pieces to release nutrients that are absorbed and used by the body.
5. Our tongue has the ability to detect _____ basic tastes, namely _____, _____, _____ and _____.
6. _____ is the stretchy bit of thin skin attaching the tongue to the mouth.
7. Taste sensors are also called _____.
8. All food components are made up of tiny chemical units called _____.
9. _____ is the fundamental energy source of the body.
10. _____ molecules have energy locked up inside them.
11. Carbohydrate digestion is completed in the _____.
12. _____ is absorbed into the blood through the walls of the intestine and transported into every cell of the body.
13. The _____ works to digest food in order to give us energy.
14. _____ is the solid waste which is discharged by the body through the anus.
15. The food is churned and digested with the help of digestive juices secreted by the walls of the _____.
16. Once the food is broken down,
17. The exit point of the digestive system is removed from the body through the _____.
18. Another name for food pipe is _____.
19. Nutrients are absorbed into the blood in the _____.
20. From the stomach, the food passes into the _____ where juices from intestine, liver and pancreas digest it further.